Article Side
Get Online Help for Efficient and Convenient PC Virus Removal by Pawantechmagnate

Article published on April 14th 2012 | Computer

If you are facing frequent troubles with your PC due to a virus infection, you can resort to a remote PC repair service. Many a websites offer online PC virus removal these days that can help you save a lot of time and effort. You wonâ€™t have to wait for your technician to visit you for your PC repair. You can instead depend on the certified technicians of a reputed website for online virus removal. Hereâ€™s guide for you to have better knowledge of what a virus is, how they get transfer to your PC and what is remote PC repair:

1. What is a virus?

A virus is a computer program that can duplicate itself and can cause a lot of damage to your computer system. Apart from viruses, there are other software codes like adware, malware and spyware, due to which your confidential data may get corrupted or may even get stolen and misused. To be on a safe side you need to prevent viruses from infecting your computer.

2. What is the source of a virus?

There can be many sources through which a virus may enter your PC. The most common among them is the internet. You may not realize it but some websites that allow free access to games and songs etc. may have viruses in their files, which may unintentionally get downloaded with other files. Viruses can also get transferred to your PC through external storage devices such as CDs, DVDs, mobiles etc.

3. How can a virus be removed online?

Some good websites offer the service of online virus removal. Their qualified technicians take the virtual control of your PC with your permission and remove all the viruses from your computer. After this, install effective and efficient anti-virus software in your PC to protect it from any kind of virus invasions in future.

4. What precautions need to be taken to protect the computer from viruses?

To prevent from any viruses to enter your PC in future, you should not download unknown programs and avoid browsing warned websites. Also, when you connect an external device to your PC, scan before using it. Lastly, keep your virus protection software upgraded and up-to-date. It will give your PC sound protection from any kind of virus attacks.

Some good websites offer PC virus removal services, 24 hours a day. Apart from online virus removal, these websites can also give solutions to other PC related problems such as slow running PC, internet issues, blue screen errors etc. It can be very convenient to get your PC repaired at home, without having to wait for a technicianâ€™s visit. So, get in touch with reputed website for your remote PC repair.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/computer-articles/get-online-help-for-efficient-and-convenient-pc-virus-removal.htm - Article Side

Pawantechmagnate - About Author:
Helppconline Ltd is a leading Computer tech support company offering a http://www.helppconline.com/remote-pc-repair.php>Online computer repair Services like Remote pc repair, a http://www.helppconline.com/virus_problem.php>Remove malware, Pc virus removal, a http://www.helppconline.com/pc_running_slow.php>Computer running slow, online technical support, Internet repair

Article Keywords:
Pc virus removal, Remote pc repair, online virus removal

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!