There will be a pre-patch before each piece of information formally launched. This patch will bring some new piece of information characteristics, such as new professional talent and plot to undertake the world's time and so on. Recently, Blizzard announces that Mists of Pandaria pre-patch is about to open beta testing.

We are about to be officially released in the mystery of the "Panda" before "World of Warcraft 5.0.1 patch beta. This patch includes new features and new features in some games.

We hope that all players willing enthusiasm to participate in the 5.0.1 patch test read the following matters:

1. Players are using the mystery of the "Panda" test account, and can not login to 5.0.1 patch testing service.

2. If a game account has been marked with the mystery of the "Panda" beta test license, then the account can only visit the panda mystery of the beta test server.

3. This restriction is covered by a separate World of Warcraft account, rather than battle net account.

4. Regional or content of those belonging to the mystery of the "Panda" piece of information, 5.0.1 Testing Services players can not enter and experience. Thank you as always to support our testing. We sincerely look forward to meet with you in the game.

Although the 5.0.1 patch did not know what world events will be included. But inferred in accordance with the plot, the story of the patch may be in the naval battle of Theramore and Theramore with the Alliance and Horde was destroyed related. In any case, the new piece of information pre-patch players will never miss. , We may wish to take this opportunity to take a look at each piece of information pre-patch some of the world's events:

Beelzebub siege

This event is held to celebrate the on-line TBC activities. But may be because Blizzard affordability through an opened door event, fear server. This incident actually did not have much meaning. Super devil will rather abruptly appear in all the main gate of the city, and then crazy siege.

Dead Rising

The scourge invasion on the eve of the Lich King. Scale compared to 1.11 a lot, and even divided into three stages.

Dwarf troll around

On the eve of the catastrophe, as the earth has been down by the Deathwing of big stupid dragon. To make worse, if there is something like a zombie siege a kind of activity, game player will be confused and disoriented. So Blizzard will seize the opportunity.
