1.0.3 The aim is to undermine the attack on everyone to try to repair Diablo 3 economic system close to collapse and extend the lifespan of the game

5Buff fall installed is not sugar-coated bullets, improving the surface of the drop to cover the fact of falling swap rates and the declining quality, and cause the game to play no fun

In an attempt to cut the child Tiguan, turning the falling bodies Bot confrontation, simple and crude, but deprived of part of the fun of the game for normal players

If you are in 1.0.3 before they could farm act 3 and act 4, then you either give up or sell. But it is not important, you're just in this little part of the group

If you were stuck in the act 1 and act 2, you can have no idea. It does not matter, you are one of the most, leaving the issue this patch on the surface seem to get better. You may prefer to play.

The 1.0.3 on the surface seem to make the game better, but Blizzard to make money at the expense of too much fun the game of course, is not to say the Blizzard to charity, do not make money, but we play the game not to give money, but to enjoy the game, if a manufacturer makes a profit at the expense of players of the game fun, then gave up longer-term interests. In fact, better use to withdraw the paintings, and their like this anxious to make money and yet still not the player's user experience, better to design a good game to test the work done enough to retain users long-term.

Of course, there will be some civilian actors population melee that indeed 1.0.3 tasted the sweetness. But it is really not the case for me personally, the most barbarous play, but for act 2, a variety of difficult to force, to practice a demon hunter, brush brush act 3 a lot of good things, some for personal use. AH or some hanging RMAH. Even now, after a series of nerve, I can still invigorating act 3 brush, if it is not Kaguai no problem, but the real problem is that in order to extend the lifespan of the game, Blizzard directly secretly cut the rate of the act 3, and always wrong recognized.

Only this time, let the Blizzard in the heart of the players have lost credibility, lost years to build a better image and reputation. I can hit the Blizzard critical equipment is not because people can grow act 3, will allow me to sell things. I hope we do not want someone to take the game when work and play equipment for the money the way. Before me, a part of the equipment sold to AH, a part RMAH sale, but all parts sold or currency battle net, not a penny is made, all re-used to buy better equipment above I also enjoy this fun game. But now, the fun could not find. Many players in Blizzard starts not because they are not as good as those who cry love Blizzard Blizzard own father, but because they do not want to see a match for many years to wait to Step by step towards the wrong direction.
