On the Allendale Square 24th and 25th Levels which are situated at the St Georges terrace the liberty executive offices are situated. These Serviced offices are present in the middle of the Perthâ€™s bustling central business district. Today the architecture of the tower which has 31 stories is amazing and striking. When this was constructed it looks wonderful from all the directions and sides. There are many types of serviced offices which are present in this building. From the Esplande train station and Perth this tower is situated half way from both. The distance of the bus port from the tower is 200 meters. The onsite parking is also available in this building. After every minute CAT buses runs. There are many types of public parking facilities are also available. There are many shopping malls also available near the building. These services offices are constructed to impress the clients.

In these offices on each desk a polycom telephone handset is present. The l00 MB of data bandwidth direct to you. In the client controlled communication room the server cabinets are secured and the safe and good environment is also available in these serviced offices. Everything is managed by the onsite team. They serve the refreshments and set the equipments for the presentations and permit you to take full interest in the main objectives of the meeting. The one of the most remote cities on the planet is a Perth and the latest polycom video conferencing technology is invested in Perth and this is one of the meeting rooms in Perth so that the clients can attend the face to face meetings and they can avoid travelling by doing this.

These meeting rooms in Perth are very useful for clients. These clients design the area of reception in their minds only. The company by which the floor is occupied has no reference to the myriad and no liberty signage. This presents the clear and clean image in front of the visitors. The fully stocked kitchen is designed on every floor. With hot water, dispenses, dishwashers and fridges the breakout area is filled. With any complaints you can have your own tea and coffee. While the housekeeping checks it is to keep the kitchen clean and tidy so they perform their duties very well. It is very stress full when you have to attend the training session attend a meeting or host a conference. On the purpose of the day keep your mind at peace. The meeting rooms in Perth are very clean and tidy. A large range of meeting rooms are provided and they are designed very carefully so that its design can suits your function On the 24th floor the eagle is there and for the board meetings and presentations this eagle provides a setting which is very inspirational. A comfort ability of the customers the28 lounge is also available. The contemporary well appointed space is also provide by the dove. Every meeting runs smoothly and this is possible only because of the onsite team members.
