Birmingham is the second most populous city in UK, preceded by London. It is therefore obvious that the city receives a large number of visitors each day. Birmingham airport, about 10.2 km to the east of the city center, is one of the busiest airports in UK, served by numerous domestic and international flights. It is no wonder that a large number of visitors prefer staying in one of the hotels near Birmingham airport to board an early morning or late night flight.

Star rated hotels near Birmingham airport

Several plush star rated hotels are located in the vicinity of Birmingham airport. Depending upon your budget, you can find a suitable two to five star-rated accommodation. These hotels boast of world class services. They are ideal for stop over as well as for long stays. They are great places to relax after an exhausting journey. The spacious rooms and suites equipped with luxury facilities offer the comfort that every traveler seeks.

Benefits of staying in an airport hotel in Birmingham

With luxurious accommodations scattered across Birmingham, you might wonder whether it is worth staying in a hotel near the airport. The most popular reason for preferring a hotel close to the airport to one located at the heart of the city is the ease of reaching the airport. No one wants to miss a flight. However, the long traffic snarls on an unusually busy day, usually during the morning and evening rush hours, may prevent you from reaching the airport on time. Nobody likes to rush to the airport. While preparing for a journey we want to relax. Therefore, for a stress free journey, it is always advisable to stay in a hotel in the neighborhood of an airport before you travel. Tourists are not the only ones who are advised to stay in an airport hotel the night before boarding an early morning flight. Even residents of the city often consider staying in a hotel near the airport overnight instead of traveling from their homes located far away from the airport.

Shuttle service

An airport hotel is not necessarily one that is only a few minutes walking distance from the airport. A hotel that is a few minutes drive from the airport is the ideal accommodation for people eager to reach the airport on time. Most of these airports offer shuttle services. Buses or cars transport passengers throughout the day to and from the airport. Guests can even avail taxi services.
