Backpacking Your Way in South Africa by Stan Scotto

Article published on December 10th 2011 | Destinations

Nelspruit is the capital of Mpumalanga in South Africa. Itâ€™s in Nelspruit that one will find comfort and home-cooked meals co-existing with the satisfaction of being right in the middle of beautiful Swaziland. Only 60 km away from Kruger National Park, Nelspruit is ideally located to give one ready access to the Park and its big five among many more creatures. Backpacking is the way of student travel in South Africa and students will have a great time in a fine inn where one can enjoy traditional South African hospitality along with the facility o.f a splash in the pool when one returns tired after a long trip in the South African Lowveld. There is a choice in the accommodation and one may opt from among en-suite rooms, self-catering cottage and en-suite dormitory. Nelspruit also boasts of the oldest caves in the world, the Sudwala caves and the breathtaking views of Blyde River Canyon among others. The inn and the tours that are associated, have been established a decade ago and offer the traveler a chance of visiting not only Kruger National Park and the surrounds of Nelspruit but also the neighboring countries of Mozambique and Swaziland.

For the youth travel in South Africa has never been easier and more enjoyable. The accommodation is suitable for single travelers as well as groups, families and couples. The inn offers the facilities of tours in and around the Big 5 countryside, car rentals, and adventure trips. The inn is situated right next to a bird abundant nature reserve and the accommodation is both spacious and clean. Modern facilities available include Braai, private DSTV and Jacuzzi. Budget/sharing rooms will mean that one will have to share the bathroom while one will have oneâ€™s own private bedroom in the en suite rooms. There are two dormitories and 3-6 can be quite easily accommodated.

If Nelspruit backpackers prefer they can opt for self catering units that are perfectly nestled in the innâ€™s garden. Thereâ€™s a gurgling stream on the way to the nature reserve. Prepare your own meals privacy, listen to birds all around you or watch the TV in your spare time, the choice is all yours. Finally, a shuttle bus service is ideal for backpackers since one can buy just one ticket to oneâ€™s destination and hop on and off in any of the 40 cities and towns or villages en route.
