It is obvious that the tourists and vacationer usually prefers cheap hotels or low cost hotels for their accommodation. With the intention of reducing the tour expenses people prefers budget hotels but they want no compromise in the quality as well. Along with the hotels, a lot of resorts were available for the tourists where they can still get pleasure and benefit from it for low cost. Generally tourists have a mindset that if the hotel is cheap then there will not be a good service. But nowadays the hotels are very much concerning about their quality as well as services and hospitality.

Even some hotels are getting feedback from the tourist, taking that in to account and seriously working and improving in that regard which is a appreciable one. These low cost hotels with good quality were available all over India, from North India to South India they are serving the tourist in a good manner to save their reputation. Even though being cheap hotels they provides some special facilities such as airport pickup and drop services, full time currency converter zones and restaurants with varieties of food items and etc.

These cheap hotels have the ability to serve the customers in all way and take more effort to satisfy their needs. They provide internet, fax and printing facilities whenever the customer needed. As the expectation of customer increases, the hotels pay more concentration on how to improve the infrastructure and attract more and more customers. Some low cost hotels has the facility of online booking from anywhere throughout India. It allows the people to book hotels at any time whenever they need, along with that they allows the customers to cancel the reservation with some charges deducted as processing fee. This online system allows the customers to select the date, time of entering and vacating and all the specification they needed.

The hotels provide rooms with many classes like Executive rooms, Deluxe Rooms, Standard rooms and Budget rooms. It is customers wish to choose one from it. Rooms with extra facilities like air condition, LCD color television, bath tubs and 24 hours hot water will be charged according to the need. Even some cheap hotels are providing rooms with meeting chambers and guest staying facilities. Although it is low cost hotels they took more care for the customers as well as satisfying the needs and necessitate immediately whenever they wanted.
