Dubai Nightlife Double Decker Pub by Lek Boonlert

Article published on December 1st 2011 | Destinations

Once you settle into your Dubai hotel it's time to start looking for a place to enjoy the nightlife. Dubai hotels across the city will have a wide variety of places they recommend depending on your tastes, but one of the best places to simply enjoy a down-to-earth experience is to head on over to the Double Decker Pub. Offering one of the only UK-oriented themes in Dubai, this is a classic pub in every sense of the word, with menu items straight out of the UK pub scene and plenty of Scottish, Irish, British and Welsh favourites. You could always eat at your Dubai hotel restaurant or one of the other Dubai hotels throughout the city, but if you want a taste of home then the Double Decker is the place to be.

Despite the fact that this is a pub of sorts, it is still an active club, and if you're striking out from your Dubai hotel to enjoy the nightlife of the city you could do a lot worse than choosing the Double Decker. A little rough around the edges in comparison to some of the other clubs, for care-free fun there is no better place. Dubai hotels throughout the city will be able to help guide you in making reservations, but with most clubs the general rule is to come early to find yourself a seat or you could be forced to choose a different venue for your night out. Still, if you manage to get in it is well worth your time, and definitely a place to come back to.
