Australian Holiday visa is a kind of visa that allows its holders to work while travelling in Australia. This visa is for those tourist who are looking for job opportunities while staying in this wonderful country. The money earned during this period can be spent on travel expense. Validity for this Australian working visa is for one year. However, there are circumstances where one can apply for second working holiday visa after the concerned applicant has completed three month work period with Australian employer.

With Australian holiday visa one can also enjoy the opportunity to study. Applicants can study for four month period during the tenure of this visa. Application for this visa can be done at the concerned Australian consulate of their country. A non-refundable application charges are imposed when applicants applies for this visa.

After the visa has been approved the concerned holder can enter the country any time within the validity period of visa. The holder of this Australian visa can leave the country to re-enter as many times as they want within the tenure of visa. After the applicant gets second working visa they can continue their employment with the same business. This is because according to previous visa you were employer with the same business. Similarly, if the applicant has studied for four month period, with second Australian working visa they can go back to the same educational institution for studying.

For Australian working visa the applicant must be between 18 and 30 years of age. Other than these some of the important requirements include holding a valid passport which is minimum 1 years old. Proper financial requirement is another important aspect that is considered when visas are granted to applicants. The applicant must have sufficient funds to support themselves as soon as they land in Australia. Thus, the applicant must provide documents as a proof for adequate funds. This includes personal bank statement, credit card limit etc. Added the applicant must not be involved in any criminal convictions and serious medical issues.

Australian holiday visa holder working in the country during visa period must remember that the work period is applicable only for six months only. In this tenure if the holders happen to work in a franchise they can opt for work in different franchises where each franchise has different business number. But they must remember that the validity of work period is for six months only.
