Johor Bahru Things to Do by Lek Boonlert

Article published on November 29th 2011 | Destinations

In addition to the usual sightseeing and tourist events of any city, Johor Bahruâ€™s superb natural beauty makes you want to spend time outside the city limits and try something a little more adventurous.

Rainforest Trek.

Be a part of the natural beauty of the rainforest with a trek through Johor Bahruâ€™s Endau Rompin Park. Home to elephants and tigers, not to mention all manner of reptiles, birds and fish, the park is hilly in places with natural plateaus and requires moderate walking. However, the park itself is difficult to access; a four-wheel drive vehicle is essential.

Waterfalls.

The best way to hide from the heat? Underneath a cascading waterfall! Johor Bahru has waterfall resorts on both Tinggi Island and the natural Pulai falls on the mainland.

Beaches.

If a beach holiday is your thing then Johor Bahru will not disappoint. With more than 7km of beautiful sandy beaches to choose from and scenery that has to be seen to be believed, you are bound to find your tropical paradise. Many beach-front hotels in Johor Bahru have a stretch of private beach.

Water Sports.

If you enjoy being out on the ocean, Johor Bahruâ€™s beaches have year-round water sports on offer including scuba diving, whale spotting, fishing, sightseeing tours and adventurous away-days by boat.

Golf.

Malaysians are passionate about their golf and this is equally true in Johor Bahru. There are a variety of Country Clubs, golfing hotels and spas located in the city offering 9-hole and 18-hole courses.

Johor Bahru has an amazing selection of things to do and as a tourist you wonâ€™t complain of boredom!
