Article published on November 26th 2011 | Destinations

In any vacation, you always pray for a sunny weather so as not to ruin your scheduled trip. But what if it rains while you are in Phuket, what are you going to do? But then again, your vacation should not be ruined even if rain starts to pour because there are other things to do in Phuket even on a rainy day. Here are five things that you can enjoy doing while on Phuket Island.

1. The first thing you can do is to pamper yourself. You have planned out everything including your line of adventure but all of a sudden it rained. You donâ€™t have to worry because going to a spa is one of the things to do in Phuket when the rain falls. All you have to do is free your mind and allow tranquility to envelope you while experiencing Thai massage like no other. Or you can also opt to go to a fish spa where you would let fishes consume your dead skin to pave the way for healthy skin layer on your feet.

2. Take a trip using your umbrella. It will make things even more exciting. Enjoy Phuket as you walk around town with your umbrella, meeting people with friendly faces. As you walk around the island, you will discover cafes where you can rest and taste their delicious treats.

3. Are you still downtrodden by the rain? One of the most enjoyable things to do in Phuket is enlist in a home cooking class that teaches Thai cuisine. You can make your time useful by learning how to make delightful authentic Thai dishes. Not only would you keep yourself dry, you also get to learn the art of cooking the Thai way.

4. You might even appreciate the rain once you experience canoeing along the Phang Nga Bay. While canoeing, you will enjoy the sight of rich limestone cliffs and mesmerizing lagoons in a verdant sorroundings. What makes your experience more breathtaking is the fact that is raining. Takinga trip under the rain can actually be enjoyable.

5. If you think it is hopeless for the weather to turn good, donâ€™t waste your time sulking. Rain can be frustrating for children but that is not the case if you are in Phuket. If with the rain pouring, children can still get into those cooking class or be taken to the Phuket Aquarium and Cape Panwa. It may not be that splendid but the marine life can still be interesting for you especially the kids.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/destinations-articles/magnificent-things-to-do-in-phuket-island-on-rainy-days.htm - Article Side

Joy Shiela - About Author:
Find out more info about Thailand and a things to do in Phuket!

Article Keywords:
Things to do in Thailand, what to do in thailand, Bankok, Phuket, Koh Samui, Chiang Mai, Pattaya,

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!