Taj Mahal Monument India

The Mughai Emperor, Shahjahan proclaim his everlasting love to his dear wife by building this magnificent structure which eventually became one of the most remarkable structure in the world, the Taj Mahal. This is considered as one of the wordâ€™s Seven Wonders that depicts the true â€˜epitome of loveâ€™.

Red Fort in Agra

The Red Fort of Agra is a powerful fortification founded in 1565 by the monarch Akbar (1556-1605) on the right bank of the Yamuna; it is placed today on the north-west extremity of the Shah Jahan Gardens which surround the Taj Mahal and clearly form, with them, a monumental unity. Among various types of the materials used, white marble decorated with golden junk and numerous jewels started to dominate

City Palace Complex in Jaipur

City Palace, Jaipur, which includes the Chandra Mahal and Mubarak Mahal palaces and other buildings, is a palace complex in Jaipur, the capital of the Rajasthan state, India. It was the seat of the Maharaja of Jaipur, the leader of the Kachwaha Rajput clan. The Chandra Mahal palace now houses a museum but the greatest part of it is still a royal residence. The palace complex, which is located northeast of the centre of the grid patterned Jaipur city, incorporates an impressive and vast array of courtyards, gardens and buildings.

Akshardham Temple in Delhi

The Akshardham Temple Complex in Delhi is the recent addition made to the tourist attraction list of Delhi. The Temple built near the Akshardham Flyover in the East Delhi area, is one of the finest structures build in the modern India. It brilliantly showcases the core of Indiaâ€™s ancient architecture, traditions and timeless spiritual messages.

Akshardham means the everlasting, divine house of the supreme God, the abode of everlasting values and virtues of Akshar as defined in the Vedas and Upanishads where divine bhakti, purity and peace forever pervades.
