Puerto Rico, a Popular Cruise ship Destination by Roger Nash

Article published on February 2nd 2012 | Destinations

It goes without saying that Puerto Rico is one of the best international holiday destinations you can find. It has something for every kind of traveler, from the laid-back tourist to the party animal. One of the main attractions at Puerto Rico is the several kinds of cruises that it offers. Here is a kind of vacation that takes care of everything in one go, from travel and food to sightseeing and the exotic. If you are planning a cruise in Puerto Rico, here are some thoughts for you.

The best part about a Puerto Rico cruise for any one with US citizenship is that you do not have to worry about using passports and clearing customs. English is also a predominant language so you will have no hassle communicating in any of the major cities that you will stopping at. On board the ship, everything related to leisure and relaxation is taken care of. All of the shipâ€™s amenities are at your disposal. Ensure that your itinerary has a stop at San Juan, because this is a place you will not want to miss. You can get on to any of the popular cruise lines such as Carnival Cruises or Celebrity Cruises and Princess Cruises.Â

One of the major ports of call for a Puerto Rico cruise is that of San Juan. You can either meet the ship at this port or stay here only for a day and continue on the ship to other destinations. Especially if you are coming from the States, then meeting the ship at Puerto Rico is a good call. It saves you travelling from ports such as New York or even Miami for over two days to get to Puerto Rico.

When you are looking for a cruise to go on, make sure you pick the right kind of ship. This is going to be your base for any Puerto Rico cruise. Depending on whether you are looking for a honeymoon experience or something that you want to enjoy with the family, check on the size and the luxury of the cabins and how many people you are sharing the common spaces with.

Keep in mind the Puerto Rico is a tropical port and the temperatures are rather high in the summers, which is the generally the time that most people visit. There are several people who also choose to visit in winters, which can get cold, though not unbearably so. The months of hurricane is generally between November and April which is still a popular time for cruises, so you better have your insurance in place as well.
