Singapore â€“ a Tour which is worth Spending On Ajay

Ajay Kumar

Article published on December 20th 2011 | Destinations

Tired of your boring work schedule and looking for a relaxing vacation? Then look no further than Singapore. Singapore is a young country with a very diverse culture. Itâ€™s a highly urbanized country with various places to see and relax around. You can select various Singapore packages which fits your requirements.

Singapore is a changeover junction for almost all major airlines flying west to east or vice versa. The road ways are very well developed and travelling in Singapore is not a problem. You can start your day in Singapore by visiting the Botanic Garden. Here you can find various species of plants, the main attraction of the place being the National Orchid Garden which has more than 1000 species of orchids. This eco friendly place should make it into your Singapore package. Apart from national orchid garden, there are several other attractions to see here such as the rainforest, ginger garden, Jacob Ballas Children's Garden and various lakes. For someone who loves ecology, this place has all to offer. There are various packages Singapore that are based on eco-touism.

Parents can surprise their childrenâ€™s by taking them to the Ritz-Carlton hotel. Itâ€™s a hotel with variou cartoon sculptures installed in it. There is a huge three-ton Frank Stella installation at the entrance. It also houses one of Asiaâ€™s finest pair of Dale Chihuly crystal glass sculptures, which anchor both wings of the building structure. Making this inclusion in your Singapore package is a good idea.

Like many other cities in the world, Singapore has a China town as well. You should visit the Chinatown Heritage Centre to see the 19th century recreation of the place. Itâ€™s a special visit because this heritage place is located just meters away from Singaporeâ€™s steel high-rises. Therefore this place has to be added to your wish list from the various packages Singapore has for you.

For all those techie junkies, Singapore has the widest range of electronic available. One has to visit Funan Digitalife Mall and Sim Lim Square for amazing deals on electronic items. If electronics are your cup of tree, you should get this visit included in your Singapore package. Geylang is the place for foodies as it offers the best local cuisine one can find in the whole of Singapore. You can try out different dishes of Peranakan, Indian, Malay and regional Chinese standards including the coconut rice and chicken curry. This place is such a relishing experience that Geylang needs to be there in your Singapore packages.

For all you techno lovers, Zouk is the place to visit. Here one can dance to the different tunes of music. Places like Zouk have to be included in packages Singapore to experience what the nightlife here has on offer. Last but not the least one has to experience the emotional heritage of Singapore by touring Changi Prison. This is a memorial museum to remember the people who lost their life in the pacific war. This place is a must in your Singapore packages.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/destinations-articles/singapore-a-tour-which-is-worth-spending-on.htm - Article Side

Ajay Kumar - About Author:
Singapore is a place where heritage and modern structures are all together; to see this unique combination select from various a Singapore packages available. You can easily choose from different a packages to Singapore has on offer. So to escape your hectic work schedules, ask your tour agent to book you a a Singapore tour package.

Article Keywords:
singapore packages, packages to singapore, singapore tour package

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!