Cozumel is the largest island located in Mexico and it boasts of a heady mix of shops, hotels, restaurants and natural features. Cozumel Mexico has only one town, which is known as San Miguel. The town is the perfect mixture of modern life conveniences as well as what remains of colonial Mexico. In other words, it has the best of both worlds. Cozumel Mexico is very famous among tourists and visitors for its cruises and scuba diving. This island is well-endowed with natural beauty, and this is the prime reason behind its popularity as a tourist destination.

There are many must-dos and must-visits in Cozumel Mexico and the first one that should be a priority would be taking an island tour. This island is full of natural wonders and touring the island would allow you to observe and get mesmerized by some of them. If you are a more â€˜ruggedâ€™ adventurer then you can consider going on a wild tour to the rainforest of the island. A guided tour through the jungles of Cozumel Mexico would be great fun as you can explore the rainforest and pay a visit to the Mayan ruins, which are the prime attractions here.

Being on a vacation does not mean that you have to be surrounded by tourists and a big crowd all the time. If you want to experience peace of mind or if you are simply looking for a romantic getaway for you and your better half in Cozumel Mexico then going for a lobster cruise is advisable. This is the most luxurious type of transportation available here in Cozumel Mexico. The cherry on top of the cake is that one can enjoy fine dining while commuting. Therefore, this makes the journey just as promising and exciting as the destination itself.

If you are visiting Cozumel Mexico with your family including your kids then you should not forget to do things that would be of their interests as well otherwise the little ones would get bored. A pirate cruise would be ideal for your kids and whatâ€™s more, they arenâ€™t even that bad for adults because these are actually quite entertaining. You will be able to get a true Caribbean experience with flamboyant dancers and mock battles between pirates in this cruise. Cozumel Mexico is quite a kid-friendly island but you need to be aware of the ideal places, like the Chankanaab Park.

Chankanaab Park is a great place for kids in Cozumel Mexico as it allows kids to frolic in the protected and shallow surf located in the childrenâ€™s pool or they can have a gala time prancing about in the parkâ€™s huge playground. Entertainment options like dolphin shows, manatee exhibition, sea lion shows and archaeological tours are available at the park in addition to basic amenities like restaurants, snack bars, showers and lockers. You can also take your kids to a submarine tour to explore underwater Cozumel Mexico which promises forty minutes of viewing colorful marine creatures and corals through the portals of the submarine.

How can you visit Cozumel Mexico without going for scuba diving? After all, this tourist activity is the main reason behind the immense popularity of this island among tourists. Even though you may go for a submarine cruise but a scuba diving session is much more enjoyable for the daring souls because this option would allow you to get up close and personal with the marine creatures. If you are an amateur then you can have dive masters or swimming instructors accompany you along the way so that your scuba diving experience in Cozumel Mexico would be a safe and fun-filled.
