Article published on November 29th 2011 | Destinations

There are a lot of things to do in and around Sydney. Below is just a short handful. Hotels in Sydney will have further information about what is available.

Ferry to Manly

If you catch the ferry to Manly from the Circular Quay at the harbour, you can see Sydney in all its glory, including the Sydney Opera House and Sydney Harbour Bridge. Alternatively, just stroll through the Manly Corso to the beach, where there are breathtaking views across the bay.

Climb Sydney Harbour Bridge

This is a unique way to see Sydney. You have an option to climb during the day or take the Twilight tour, whereby you start the climb during the day, but descend the other side as night time falls. A guide is on hand at all times.

Visit Sydney Opera House

If you like culture, then a visit to the Sydney Opera House is worthwhile. Over 1500 performances of all sorts take place each year. Hotels in Sydney will have details for visitors.

Darling Harbour

If you are looking for a great shopping experience, then a visit to Darling Harbour is a must. As well as shops, there are plenty of restaurants, museums and other entertainment suitable for the whole family.

Royal Botanic Gardens

Visiting the Royal Botanic Gardens is a must do activity. Situated on the banks of Sydney Harbour, with the Opera House and Circular Quay on the west side, the gardens cover 30 hectares and attract over 3 million visitors each year. A trip around the gardens is available by the Choo Choo Express.
