Tours Destinations Perth by Lek Boonlert

Perthshire is a huge county and the town of Perth is a great point of departure for seeing the area with its wonderful natural scenery. That said, there is plenty to see in Perth itself, the area which used to be a major town in the 12th century.

There is a lot to see in Perth, and there are a number of points of interest you should stop by, so make sure the Perth tour you pick includes a full itinerary. Most tours will include a stop at the Scone Palace where over 42 Scottish kings have been crowned. Scone Palace has a wonderful parkland garden and interesting artefacts in the castle itself. The oldest building in Perth, St Johnâ€™s Kirk dates from 1159, while St Ninianâ€™s â€“ while not as old â€“ is still an impressive sight.

Many of the tours from Perth include stopovers at spots around the town. Interesting places include the Crieff market town, the highlands of Smaâ€™ Glen and the pretty lake, Lock Earn. Depending on the tour you may also stop at Fowlis Wester, a small village with many ancient sights and Methwen where many interesting and important historical people have resided.

A couple of interesting, if not quirky tours, operate in Perth, including the Perth History and Horror tour. This tour explores the career of John Larg, a career criminal and body snatcher that was executed in Perth in 1817. However, the cheap Perth hotels popular with tourists are not likely to be haunted by ghosts.
