Article published on December 6th 2011 | Destinations

Selecting one of the numerous tours offered in Florence may take as long as trying to view the entire city on your own. There is simply so much to see and do in the city that choosing one or two tours proves to be quite a challenge. Your tour choices include private tours, walking tours, cinque terre tours and Tuscany day tours, as well as museum and art tours. If youâ€™re staying at a Florence city centre hotel, you may want to ask about all the available tours before making your choice.

If youâ€™re opting for a walking tour of Florence, you can expect to have choices such as the Original Renaissance, Michelangelo & David, or the Uffizi Florence Walking Tour. These walking tours are meant for smaller groups. All tour guides are licensed and speak English. Most of the public walking tours last about three hours.

For a private walking tour, chose from the Private Florence Ghost, Private Michelangelo & Medici, or Private Oltrarno tour, among others. The private tours offer â€˜skip the line ticketsâ€™, meaning that youâ ushered straight in to the sites you wish to see.

Tuscany day tours from Florence include the Cinque Terre Tour, Tuscany Wine Tour, Siena and San Gimignano Day Tour or the Chianti Wine Tour. These tours typically last around eight to nine hours.

If you only have time to take one tour in Florence you should consider the combined David & Michelangelo and Original Renaissance Florence Walking Tour. This particular tour allows for a â€˜skip the line ticketâ€™ once you reach the Accademia â€“ it is here that you will see the original David b Michelangelo. This tour also features the main must-see attractions of Florence.
