Noida, a city of the state Uttar Pradesh is said to be one the modern suburbs in Delhi and in National Capital Region. It is a fully fledged industrial city that is rapidly developing in all spheres including education. There is variety of schools in Noida affiliated to several boards like CBSE, ICSE, state board and some of the schools are even affiliated to the international boards like IB.

International schools of Noida are quite famous and attract students even from the neighboring cities. Some of the best international schools in Noida are Amity International School, Global Indian International School, Apeejay International School, Ryan International School etc. Itâ€™s not important that the international schools are affiliated to IB board.

Amity International School located in Sector 44 of Noida is an International School affiliated to CBSE board. It is an English medium co educational school. The campus of the school is divided into six blocks to accommodate Pre Primary, Primary, Middle and Senior wing. The blocks contain suitable amenities according to the age group they cater for. The school is committed to a standard of education and the teachers keep the students updated to the latest happening around the world with academics and extracurricular activities.

Global Indian International School is situated in sector 71 and it is a well recognized school chain in 8 countries. It is a co educational English medium school affiliated to the CBSE board. The school has won many awards for its excellence in academics. The school aims at imparting best education to their student and developing them in all fields.

Public schools have always been the centre of attraction among the students as well as the parents. These schools are mostly run by the private bodies. The best public schools in Noida are Bal Bharti Public School, Army Public School, Delhi Public School, Khaitan Public School and GDKM Public school. Bal Bharti Public School in sector 21, Noida is a co educational English medium school. The school is known to provide best results for both the board classes. Not only is this, but students passing with distinction marks are higher in number. After class 10th there are two streams available for the students i.e. science and commerce.

Before choosing a school for primary or secondary level, it is important to choose the best nursery school first. There are many schools that provide education from class nursery to class 12th with the separate kindergarten building but there are some schools that are only for tiny kids from class nursery to UKG or from play group to class nursery. The best schools for such purpose are Shemrockâ€™s Galaxy, Motherâ€™s Pride, Stimulus School, Sky line School and many more.

These schools take care of a childâ€™s need and the teachers teach in a fun learning way without putting any pressure to the little kids. The kids in all these schools are nurtured carefully. Considering the age of the kids, the teachers that are hired for these classes are well trained. All kind of games, toys and little swings are available to the kids in these schools.

Schooling education plays a vital role in oneâ€™s life; therefore utmost care should be taken while choosing a school. The great variety of schools in Noida may put some parents in confusion but parents are supposed to choose the school as per the suitable locality and environment.
