Schools are the pioneers of education where children learn and make themselves literate citizens. Education is indeed important not just because they gain knowledge but also because it makes them aware of their surroundings and the world outside. In schools, children learn various subjects and get to know various facts too. This phenomenon continues for more than half of their life, still many of them tend to get extra classes apart from school. Tuitions are really necessary for them.

Thousands of children study at school and come out with flying colors, there are children who are average and above average as well. They require guidance from parents, teachers and friends as well. Tuitions refer to classes which repeat the same concepts taught at school again. Children need to be more receptive while listening in order to overcome this problem. At times, there are cases where they require guidance for all subjects. Their real purpose is to ensure that a student shows results in the exams which are very important. They may choose any stream of their choice arts, commerce or science, in each of the subjectsâ€™ equal dedication and concentration is absolutely required.

Extra help like tuitions is repetition of the same concepts which have been taught in school. If children learn and listen carefully all the concepts will surely become easy hurdles in the exams as well. The objective of the education system is to make students think, learn, observe and understand. Marks play a vital role in the formation of a career, though it isnâ€™t the only one factor which is important. â€˜All work and no Play makes Jack a Dull Boyâ€™ is an apt quote for children of today. The reason lies in the fact that if children are always busy with school and tuition they will never get time for their physical growth which is also equally important as having a career.

Children should make use of their time decisively and make sure their work gets completed in time. This will not only give them time to get involved in extra- curricular activities but also recuperate from the mental hard work they have to do in order to secure a good percentage for their future. According to parents in Delhi, coaching isnâ€™t required until children come in the tenth standard. At this level coaching is required because itâ€™s a decisive year for any childâ€™s career. Today in the modernity period information is freely available which wasnâ€™t in earlier times.

Earlier students had to haul loads of reference books in order to make their notes and get a good understanding of a concept. Today all students have free and complete access to Information without any hassles. They are lucky to have only course related reference books, apart from that children donâ€™t have to study anything else for their exams. The need of the hour for children is to concentrate on their education rather than squandering parentsâ€™ money on tuitions which arenâ€™t required. We wish them best of luck for their future plans and goals.
