MEWPs stand for Mobile Elevating Work Platforms which are an essential component in the building and construction industry. These platforms are widely used in this industry to reach heights easily although there is an element of danger and risk.

Operators Training Course

One of the basic and relevant MEWPs training program is the Operatorsâ€™ Training course which is only one day long. It is a well attended course which is conducted at IPAF approved centers all over the world. The objective of the course is to equip MEWP operators with the knowledge and skills on handling MEWPs. These operators need to understand the scope of their responsibilities and duties to handle the heavy and dangerous equipment rightly when working at heights.

Successful candidates of this training would be awarded the IPAF certificate and photocard which are valid for five years in this industry together with an Operators Safety Guide and PAL Card logbook by IPAF.

This training would satisfy the Work at Height Regulations of a qualified and competent person operating any MEWP as the operator would have undergone the proper training which equips one with the relevant technical knowledge. The training has practical sessions which accumulate to relevant experiences in the work field.

Recognitions

The MEWPs training courses are IPAF approved; such qualifications are globally accepted with many manufacturing and building companies preferring them over other qualifications. MEWPs training programs which are recognized by the relevant industry also include Static or Mobile Vertical; Personnel Platform; Van Truck Mounting; Trailer Mounting; Static Boom; Scissor Lift; Mobile VPP and boom; Flying Carpet; Cherry Picker; Self Propelled Boom.

These courses are targeted at the various industries which are common in any state for development and economic sustenance. Hence, only the best MEWPs courses should be considered for the desired results.

Special course

There is the special MEWP training for Managers where higher end personnel in the construction industry like managers are given relevant safety information on scaffolding, towers and platforms.

Important aspects of working at heights such as ladders and steps, safety, risks and dangers are included. Managers are given the full range of management and operation training to be equipped appropriately for a successful and safe project outcome.

Trained managers would be able to inspect and use independent scaffolds as well as provide proper consultancy services on health and safety during work at height opportunities. Such personnel would be able to handle the job well when equipped with the right tools and resources.
