Weekend is the most enjoyed days of the week because one can be with the family, relatives and friends. These are also the days of forgetting the work and feel free of stress and rest for the day. Tiring w work that every day you encounter and weekend is the only day that you will have to do all of the things that you can do. But how about sacrificing a weekend just to change your everyday setting and have new environment where you can have the full enjoyment while working? Give your weekend and learn about film making.

Film making is one of the largest companies that you can imagine. There one can be the most famous person one can get and the richest but is if a person will enter the film industry. Brisbane Film Schools is giving an opportunity to learn in just a weekend and then full knowledge will be granted in exchange.

Brisbane Film School is one of the schools that have a huge reputation and eager to have graduates that will continue making state of the art and high quality movies. So the school is giving the student a weekend of learning all because not all of the students can attend the weekday schooling because of the work that they had. Several techniques are also done to give the full knowledge that students can have.

The teacher will also be a good source of knowledge for the students all because the teacher already made make his name famous in the field f film making. He is Colm O Murchu and he is a famous film maker in Australia and ahs made numbers of films that has won several awards. He is making movies for about time from now and at the same time he is teaching students about film making. He is still making new movies and attending seminars that could widen his art of making movies and to provide better knowledge that the students can use for their future movies.

In the weekend school, limited numbers of students are only welcome per weekend that is available for the school because with lesser students they can absorb better knowledge. The methods are also very convenient for the students because teachers are using is the hands-on method while giving the students instructions for them to learn more.

There are so many things that will be learned in the weekend school although it is only two days of learning. The students will learn things like the proper use of the camera, the essential use of the sound and lights in film making, the great source of SFX that will be used in the movie, how to make movie with limited budget, how to direct the actors and actresses in the movie and much more.

It is better to have a great knowledge and leave the things that make us unhappy and so with the week end school, all of the good things can be done while beginning to create a new life and new world for you.
