Article Side

CBSE boarding school guarantees academic and personality development of each kid by Johnsmith

Article published on December 27th 2011 | Education

Are you worried that you canâ€™t devote enough time for your childâ€™s education? Boarding schools ca provide helpful solutions for working parents or for those who have transferable jobs. This is one platform which offers the much needed guidance to nurture natural talent of each student.

Selecting the right boarding school is not a simple task. In fact, much will depend on the right selection. As a responsible parent, you should do some thorough enquires about different boarding schools before coming to the final conclusion.

Different boarding schools follow their own course curriculum. Some follow the ICSE board while some CBSE and then many schools follow the local board. The best aspect about CBSE boarding school is that it ensures a broad educational program along with extended model. The course curriculum is designed to help in overall development of every kid. Not only academics but equal stress is given on extra-curricular activities too.

Below are some reasons why you need to explore CBSE boarding school for your kid:-

â€¢ These boarding schools offer a well balanced platform where kids can actually enjoy the learning process. The CBSE curriculum is designed to offer a stress-free learning environment for students whereby they can make connection between different areas of knowledge. These schools always encourage teamwork. This way, students learn to perform and face challenges as a team.

â€¢ Boarding schools following CBSE are accessible to parents from different geographical and socio-economic backgrounds. These schools are rather affordable so that parents need not worry about excessive expenses while enrolling their kids. Since, many international students are also opting for these institutions, if offers perfect opportunity for kids to interact and learn about a wide range of cultures and practices.

â€¢ These boarding schools boast of highly qualified, experienced and extremely co-operative faculties who know the best way to communicate with kids and guide them properly. The main benefit of boarding schools is that students can interact with teachers anytime they want. Apart from attending classrooms, teachers often offer special tuitions or counseling sessions. Assessment tasks are designed such that teachers can properly evaluate the studentâ€™s understanding of a specific subject. If any student is found lagging in a specific field, then additional tuitions are arranged for him/her.

Boarding school education is meant to educate each student for the outside world. Classrooms, different physical and extra-curricular activities are designed to develop a strong, confident and responsible individual. In fact, all subjects are taught using programs which are recognized as per international standard. Hence a student passing out of CBSE residential schools always feel confident enough to try out a career abroad. Though residential schools are many, Chennai based boarding schools are doing quite commendable work in this sector. Many students who have successfully passed out of these institutions have been able to make a mark in their respective fields.

To know more about boarding schools, you can always browse their websites for detailed information. Since different schools follow their own admission process and terms, you need to be informed well in advance about these rules and regulations. Most schools have their own websites which offer relevant information about the school background, academics, admission schedule and fees structure. Thus you need not travel anywhere to gather these details. In fact, a free download of application form is also possible. For any clarification, you can get in touch with the school administration via email of phone calls.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/education-articles/cbse-boarding-school-guarantees-academic-and-personality-development-of-each-kid.htm - Article Side

Johnsmith - About Author:
An academician and columnist writes about a CBSE Boarding school that introduce novel concepts of learning. He has taught in Top Higher Secondary school and also been a teacher guardian in Best CBSE School.

Article Keywords:
CBSE boarding school

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!