Dehradun Schools: Established Name in Education by Manishpaull

Article published on July 17th 2012 | Education

Dehradun is the capital city of the Indian state Uttrakhand and is like a branded name for education. Schools of Dehradun are very popular all around the country and they have been attracting students in large number every year. The city possesses high literacy rate of 89% which indicates that education in this place is not taken for granted but is considered as an essential part of human life. Dehradun is home to many public as well as religious schools. The city boasts of quite a good number of schools, which are either affiliated to the Central Board of Secondary Education (CBSE) or Indian Certificate of Secondary Education (ICSE) or National Open Schools.

Schools that are serving the city with their best educational standard are Cambridge Senior Secondary School, Summerfield School, Shree Guru Ram Rai Public School, Bright Angels School, St. Maryâ€™s Secondary School, SGRR Public School, Doon Valley Public School, DSB International School and many more. Doon Valley Public School is a well established and reputed school of the city which is also a residential school. It is an English medium co educational school affiliated to the CBSE board. A special importance to the environment of the school is given to provide green and pollution free atmosphere to the young minds. The residential facilities are like a home away from home.

The wardens take care of each and student carefully and find extreme pleasure in fulfilling their duties. DVPS offers a comprehensive learning environment, with personal freedom, and the richness of non-academic activities. Students have liberty to choose the subjects and fields of their own choice and according to their talent. The teachers of the school enjoy exploring each child to know exactly the aim and aspiration of that child.

The school believes in fostering an educational environment that emphasizes individual attention, self-esteem and personal responsibility ensuring the all round development of the student. Traditional methods are employed in inculcating moral and ethical values in the students. The academics are taught with modern techniques. Practical studies are given equal importance as the theoretical studies to make a child learn for lifetime. The students are also encouraged to air their ideas and views. Free and easy student-teacher interaction is a unique feature at DVPS. The comprehensively planned school campus has spacious buildings, sprawling grounds, courts, and many more amenities which cover all aspects of training and conditioning.

Healthy mind resides in a healthy body. The school has a firm belief in this phrase so they maintain a perfect balance between academics and sports. Regular sports competitions are organized and students are encouraged to participate as per their will and area of interest. Once their talent is caught teachers help a student to groom up completely in that way.

Dehradun has over 300 schools alone and the great thing is that almost all of them are well recognized and are highly in demand all over. The city is also being developed to reduce the pressure on the capital city Delhi. The scenic and clean environment of the schools in Dehradun is majorly responsible for the physical, mental and spiritual growth of the students. Many of the eminent personalities have once been part of these schools that are wide known today. Schools in Dehradun are not only delivering education but are transferring a better standard of living.
