Article Side
Driving theory test guide for learner driver by Johngraham

Article published on March 16th 2012 | Education

Everyone wants to pass a driving theory test to get the valid driving license. One should have details knowledge about online theory test and practical test. To get the valid license learner must keep in mind that theory test consist of two parts?

Driving standard agency has made new changes in theory test from Jan 2012.

Online theory test:

The online theory test is made up of two parts, the multiple choice part and the hazard perception part. If you pass in one part and fail in other then whole online test has to be taken again. You will not be considered as pass candidates. You should know that if you fail in one part then you will be failed in whole online test. Once you have passed the online theory test you can then apply to take your practical driving test.

Multiple choice test:

This theory test is computer based test. This test is conducted to understand the theory behind driving. Instruction will be given before you will give your online test you will be given 57 minutes to complete the test and 15 mins practice session where you can practice before the test. For car and motorbike theory test you'll be asked randomly 45 multiple-choice questions and 5 marks case study style questions. For Lorries and buses out of 60 questions you need to get 51 rights to pass in 70 minutes and for car and motorbike you need to get 43 right to pass out of 50 questions in 57 minutes.

Hazard perception test: DSA Hazard perception test has been introduced in the driving theory test so that new drivers should not involve in the accidents. Hazard perception is mainly conducted to increase the knowledge of driving. Hazard perception test is very easy if you understand well. Many learner drivers fail in hazard perception test, mainly because of lack of knowledge about the hazard test

Hazard perception test is a second part of the theory test and must be passed at the same time. People are given to view 14 hazard video clips on the computer screen of approximately one minute each. People should watch that clips as if they are the drivers there will be 15 hazards perception clips to find at least one on each clip. . However, one clip will have 2 hazards. The hazard perception test clips will not contain any sound. Learners can score five marks on each hazard and the test contains 15 score able hazards.

The pass mark for the car and motorcycle hazard perception part of the theory test is 44 out of 75. For Lorries and buses the pass mark is 50 out of 75.

Hazard perception practice with Free hazard perception demo clips and examine your self by Hazard perception practice and if there is any mistake to observe hazard clip then practice more to remove your mistake.

You must have confidence to pass the theory test and practical driving test. You should not be nervous while driving.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/education-articles/driving-theory-test-guide-for-learner-driver.htm - Article Side

Johngraham - About Author:
John is involved with Driving test in writing useful a Hazard perception practice tips. You can learn more about driving test, driving test dvd, book driving theory test, driving test CD, DVD, a hazard perception practice test, theory test download, theory test DVD online theory test information here.

Article Keywords:
hazard perception, dsa hazard perception, hazard perception practice, hazard perception clips, hazard perception practice test, hazard perception demo

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!