Play school is place from where your child can develop their all physical and intellectual level skills at the initial level. From 3-4 years of age, your child will show more energy and balance when heshe walks, climbs, jumps, hops, marches and runs under the safe supervision of playschool teachers. They will be able to walk in a line, move quickly around hindrances, run at an even jump, and suddenly turn and stop well when follows the clear instructions of their teachers in the schools.

All these activities are quite remarkable that allows your child good confidence and physical developments. At home also if you provide the relevant toys and sports items then, they can easily grasp these things about how to use that and play with them. It also sharpens their intellectual skills with physical flexibility. But do care all such activities should be done in front of you. Your child can also develop the art and craft interests in them at play schools. They can easily hold crayons with their fingers without any major help from others, and will be able to manipulate clay into ball or snake shapes at their schools in clay modeling periods.

They will also come to know that these things should be use in very careful manner, should not be swollen or eaten or should be use on paper only etc. Your child can now undress without your help; but earlier they would need your help in getting dressed up. They can undo buttons skillfully, but does up buttons slowly. All such type manners and self dependency to maximum work also teaches your child in the play schools. Your child will start to show a preference for being right-handed or left-handed, but they might still alternate between them. While writing small letter or alphabets often children are getting confuse.

All such problems can easily be shortened out in the play school under the experienced teachers. Hygiene and Health status practices will be teach to your child at this age, your child should wash their hands, brush their teeth, and how to use the toilet with growing independence in the nursery classes. Heâ€™ll be able to blow his own nose when reminded. He should always carry his her handkerchief. Also, your child will be starting to try new food on his own. They can tell you about their choice of food items easily and quickly.

The anger management is also an essential part of learning and teaching in the school. If your child is too shy to speak then also they can learn here a lot of things about how to speak with out shy. Thus the children will get to know about the behaviors therapies too.Your child will be constructing his awareness and ability to follow basic health and safety rules, such as fire safety, traffic and pedestrian safety. Sheâ€™ll be responding to possibly harmful objects, materials and activities in appropriate ways. And your child will be able to communicate what are the dangerous things by which we should protect ourselves. For example, â€˜Donâ€™t throw sand!â€™ donâ€™t touch fire etc. Ea has their own potential of development. Thus do not ever compare your child, donâ€™t scold or interrupt them all the times. Just be friend of them.
