Students usually go in circles when it comes to write a technology essay, if you are given the topic for writing technology essay then you must also be given a proper guideline which will be consisting of the format, length and audience of the information and technology essay but if you havenâ€™t assigned the topic then you have to keep to consider many things before deciding the topic for technology essays, following is a brief guideline which will tell you about how to start your essays about science and technology.

First step:

How to select a topic?

The selection of the topic should be based on your interest because it is very important that you maintain your interest throughout the technology essays writing. Science and technology is itself a boring topic, this, selecting a topic of your interest will help you write the essay with ease.

Second step:

Determine the purpose of writing

Purpose of writing is directly associated with the thesis statement writing, so first develop a theme or idea and then come to the thesis statement of the technology essays.

Third step:

Writing a thesis statement:

A thesis statement is the backbone of essay writing so make sure it is well-written, well-defined and complete. You can either write many thesis statements or choose the most pertinent one here. Following is a sample thesis statement for information technology essay.

â€œThe technology advancement has provided us the greatest opportunity to keep contacts with those long distance contactsâ€•

Fourth step:

Writing a topic sentence

Topic sentence help support the introductory paragraph just like introductory paragraph support the thesis statement. You topic sentence should be ideally in the introduction and at the starting of every paragraph that will also show the subject matter of the paragraph. Therefore, make sure the topic sentence is crafted well enough to engage the reader in the essay. For example; if we take the above told thesis statement then the topic sentence would be something like this â€œWith the drastic improvement in the means of communications via internet and cell phones we can say that technology has contributed a lot in communicationâ€•

Fifth step:

Utilizing a transitional sentence:

The introductory paragraph is incomplete without a transitional hook; make sure you are including it in the introductory paragraph.  Transitional hooks are used in the end of the introduction to make it more appealing. Transitional sentences or words are used to connect different paragraphs with each other, utilizing a transitional sentence, here would connect the introductory paragraph to the body of the technology essay. These sentences are also used in the body paragraphs to connect them with each other.

Hence, you must go through the preceding guide if you want to come up with a good piece of writing, writing a technology essay isnâ€™t that difficult as it seems to be, most probable reason for this is that often students opt for the topics that isnâ€™t of their interest, therefore, they donâ€™t pay much attention to the details and end up with very low grades in their essay exams.
