Qualities of a Good Day Care Centre by

Article published on February 16th 2012 | Education

Nurturing a child is like taking care of the plants in a garden. As the plants require water, sunlight and fertilizer to grow up healthy, kids also need proper care and nurturing so that they can become a potent human being. The nurturing of the children plays an important role in everyoneâ€™s life. In the present day world, most of the parents are working. Time has become a prime area of concern for them as they have to manage everything within particular time limit. Thus most of the parents look for the day care centers for their children so that they can take care of them. In metropolitan cities or in fact in small town also, there are numbers of daycare centers that are emerging day by day.

Thus it sometime becomes difficult for the parents to choose the right centre for their child. There are many factors that parents should look for before choosing a particular day care school for their child. The following are some of the tips that parents can follow while searching for good day care centers for their kids:-

1-When you look for a good crÃ¨che or day care centre, first consider the distance of the crÃ¨che from your home or workplace. This is important because in case of emergency, the crÃ¨che authorities can easily inform you

2-The second thing that you must look for is the children-teacher ratio. As the kids are left in such homes for a whole day, there must be good number of teachers there so that each child can get individual care

3-Before choosing any such crÃ¨che for your child, donâ€™t forget to visit there physically at least once. This will give you a proper understanding of the environment and of the methods of teaching that teachers are applying on the students there

4-We all want to provide our children a safer world. So always look for the safety concerns. There should be proper medical facilities available. Moreover, the furniture, playing materials and other materials should be child friendly so that your child should not be harmed by them

5-The initial years of a childâ€™s life are the most crucial ones as this will form the basis of your childâ€™s future life. Thus it is very important to give your child in an expert hand. The teaching methodologies in this regard play a great role

6-In the crÃ¨che, there should be proper ventilation. Moreover, there should be scopes for children to spend some time in close connection with nature. This thing is very important for from the health prospective of your child

7-Also check where your baby's daycare bag and spare clothes are kept. Each child should have a separate locker with a name tag. Your baby's bottle, sipper, clothes, diapers and toiletries must not be shared with another child

A good crÃ¨che should also have an open-door policy and will encourage parents to drop-in unannounced. Some crÃ¨ches go beyond merely letting you in and encourage you to become part of the daycare community by helping with activities, or accompanying children on outings.
