Majority of the jobs and employment opportunities in the I.T sector are in the E-commerce sector i.e. online marketing and SEO field. In the time SEO professionals are equally in demand as are Programmers, Database and IT professionals in other respective sectors. The craze of online marketing in India is increasing day by day in India. The latest online marketing strategies like online shopping portals have changed the face of buying and selling purposes in the India market. People in metropolitan cities especially are trusting online shopping over going out to a shopping center or a mall for shopping needs.

Because of this online shopping portals and website are making great amount of money in India. People are going for these online shopping options because of the following features -

1) Good and services are available at much affordable prices and with no compromise in the quality of the products.

2) These portals and websites offers a wide range of every service and products which are not usually available at other shopping options.

3) Discounts and offers are available at regular intervals of time on every products which these portal offers.

4) The most important advantage of shopping through these portals is saving time and money.

There are many online shopping portals present on world wide web which deals in selling and buying good and services in India and that is why competition is very tough in the online marketing profession. This has lead to increasing demand and importance of SEO professionals. Because it is SEO professionals who makes any website or portal rank on the top of leading search engine result pages(SERPs) for getting maximum web traffic and business.

SEO professionals with great experience are well paid in the corporate world. I.T companies which are dealing in online marketing of any good and services are ready of pay any cost of quality SEO professionals.SEO professionals are not required in the I.T organization but in every company nowdays because wants to do online promotion of their products. Students from every field whether it is technical like B.Tech and MCA etc or it is related to management like MBA wants to sharp up their career in SEO sector. Students are investing their parent's hardly earn money after graduation and post graduation for their SEO training. This is because students knows that it is their skills which helps them to get a decent job and not their degree.

In the past few times students has been observed paying more attention to their training programs inspite of their degree. Students from every field (from technical or non technical) are opting for SEO training nowadays because of it's demand and career options in this sector. Students are ready to pay any amount to get quality training on SEO. Most of the students wants to get trained in a company rather then in a training institute because for a job prior experience is required. And one can only gain experience in company only. In companies students not only get the company experience but also learn updated SEO skills which are in high demand in the SEO companies.

Fortunately, most of the engineering colleges are located in Delhi (NCR) region and top SEO training companies are also in Noida only. So students can easily go for their SEO training in their locality only.
