Since primary and secondary school education in India is being stressed upon from various circles, the need of quality schools is very essential. To cater to the rising number of school students, there is need of more and more schools in the country. Of more importance is the opening of quality primary educational institutions, so that the students are able to compete in the later years of life with confidence.

It is during the formative years that the students can be moulded in by different means to be confident and knowledgeable. The foundation of such education is laid in the school level. The objective of the ICSE medium schools is to impart a wholesome education to the children, who can be made to learn if the studies are made interesting for them. Such ICSE schools in Mumbai have undertaken the objective with seriousness so that the young children grow up to be knowledgeable and good in studies to enable them to score good marks and percentages in the ICSE exams in the 10th standard.

A lot of ICSE schools in Pune, can be found, where the teachers are competent in helping students grasp the basics of the subjects. They have been recruited with a stringent procedure where their skills and qualifications in teaching different subjects are tested. This ensures that they are able to teach the young minds in a way which gets ingrained in the children's minds.

The aim of the ICSE schools in Ahmedabad is to provide a wholesome study atmosphere for the kids. Since the language of teaching in these schools is English, this aspect of the students is improved significantly when they do their studies in these ICSE schools. Different regions in India have these ICSE schools and they have well equipped classrooms. To make the studies more effective, the classes are divided into different sections so that the teacher student ratio is well maintained and all the children are able to get the teacher's attention for improvement.

The curriculum that is being followed in the ICSE schools in Mumbai is consistent with that designed by the New Delhi Board. These have been formed by taking into consideration the subjects which would be of benefit for the students in their later years in college. These schools also have other languages which can be picked up as the second language after English. With all the subjects being taught in English, and the spoken language being the same, the students passing out from the ICSE schools in Pune are well versed in the art of writing and speaking in English.

Since they are encouraged to speak in English, these students have the ability to excel in debates, essay writing, elocution, and other such activities. Encouraged by the curriculum that is being followed in the ICSE schools in many cities, the parents are also keen on sending their kids to these schools, so that they are able to go through a good value system and high standard of education. This is the aim of the ICSE schools and students are also performing well in such school board exams. The high percentage secured by the students is a way of sealing the superiority of these schools in India.
