Summer training your dress rehearsal for tomorrow by Ashutosh Kaushik

Article published on June 11th 2012 | Education

In the present run down engineering students are taking possible precautions so that they do not have to face any find of problem at the time of selection in the top companies. Getting a good job is not a easy job anymore because of the various reasons. The face of engineering educations has distorted in last few years. Top leading companies whether it is a I.T company or any other core companies are playing very safely. The working and hiring procedures of the companies especially I.T companies because these companies are still struggling with problems raised during the biggest recession few years back.

Companies are not at all in mood of hiring "RAW ENGINEERS" from the market or in other words we can say that companies are not at all considering fresher's in their working team. As the market competition is getting higher day by day and the number of well skilled engineering are not at all up to the mark. The number of jobs for un-experienced and fresher's candidates are very limited in the present time. The number of job opening are very few and candidates applying for these jobs are huge. There is huge population of engineering graduates all around the country who are looking for a job from one or more years but are unable to get job because of the present conditions prevailing in the market.

This is because companies are not looking for engineers anymore but engineers with super strong technological attainments along with great personality, which is not at all possible with the present teaching system in the leading engineering colleges across the nation. Because of this some disastrous changes happened in the engineering educational methodologies. Majority of the engineering students opting for technical training especially for summer training. Students are understanding the market trend in India quite well now and they now the importance of technical attainment in shaping up their career.

Summer training has become a name of trust among students for developing super solid technical skills required in leading MNC's. The reason behind the growing popularity graph of summer training are -

1) Students gets a break to have a close look to the companies working.

2) Students learns to work hard because in the corporate sector there no rest before the completion of the task.

3) Students assists some of the finest professionals of different profile while summer training so they learns a lot from them.

4) Students have to interact and work with large number of different people in the companies which helps them to develop team work and leadership qualities.

5) Students learns time management during their summer training as they have to perform tasks.

6) Moreover students get to learn technical attainment which they can not in their colleges because it is only possible to learn technologies on practical basis in companies which are dealing in that particular domain.

Summer training can be considered as DRESS REHEARSAL to the students before they enter the corporate sector because it cover all those things which are generally wanted in the corporate sector.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/education-articles/summer-training-your-dress-rehearsal-for-tomorrow.htm - Article Side

Ashutosh Kaushik - About Author:
It's high time for a summer training. Get complete details of a summer training 2012 for b.tech and mca students at a CETPA Infotech Pvt. Ltd, India a name in technical training programs.

Article Keywords:
summer training, summer training in noida, summer training in meerut, summer training in muzaffarnagar, summer training in roorkee, summer training in dehradun, summer training in haldwani, summer training in uttarakhand, summer training in uttar pradesh

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!