Sonipat, also spelled as Sonepat, is an ancient town and a municipal council in the Sonipat district in the Indian state of Haryana. Sonepat comes under the National Capital Region and is around 20 kilometers from Delhi (Sindhu Border). The Yamuna River runs along the eastern boundary of the district. Sonipat comprises of 3 sub-divisions namely Sonipat, Ganaur and Gohana.

Itâ€™s believed that Sonipat was founded as Swarnaprastha by the five Pandava brothers during the times of Mahabharata. Mythologically, it is one of the five towns demanded by Yudhishthira from Duryodhana as the price of peace. Sonipat shares its borders with Delhi (National Capital) in south, Panipat district in the north, Uttar Pradesh state in the east and Rohtak district in the west. Sonepat is also a home to many industries. Atlas cycle industry, OSRAM India, electric construction and equipment co. ltd., L&T overseas, etc., are few of the industries that are located in Sonepat, Haryana. Sonepat is also a home for many universities. Such as, Deenbandhu chhotu ram university of science and technology, OP jindal global university and bhagat phool singh mahila vishwavidyalaya.
