Article published on May 4th 2012 | Education

Want to clear UK Driving Test then here is some information that will help you if you are a foreign license holder.

If you want a UK Driving license then you will have to pass UK Driving theory Test and also you are resident in UK for more than 12 month. If you are not going to stay in UK more than 12 month then you have another option that you can use your foreign driving license in UK without passing the driving test exam.

If you are going to stay in UK for 1 year or more than that and also you want to continue your driving in UK then you have to prepare for Driving test exam before your international driving license permit expires.

A lot of people think that they can easily pass driving test online exam in UK because they already have their own Driving license from their home country and they are driving for many years but if you think so then you are wrong and need to know the truth. When you are papering for the test you must know what things you need during test. You have to prepare for this exam just like you did for your past exams.

This UK driving theory test is divided into 2 parts, first a theory test and second one practical driving test. To appear for the test first you have to apply for test and join ownership of UK provisional license. For this you need an application form which you can get for any post office in UK.

Once you get your temporary license, you can directly go to DSA website and apply for theory test online exam. A lot of people in the UK practice for the Theory Test exam by using CDs or driving DVD ROMs. After Passing Theory Test you get 2 years to complete your practical driving test and you have to pass practical exam within this 2 years time period else you have to take theory test exam again.

Now it is time to get a driving trainer and prepare for your theory test and practical test.
