An assembly is when a schoolâ€™s group of people, or a major part of it, meets in a common place every day to share aspect of life that are of value. A morning assembly in the school is one of the most vital features of a schoolâ€™s set of courses. Its potential to look after a positive school culture that stresses concern for the self, others and the pursuit of all forms of quality should not be underestimated. Morning assembly on Monday is mostly important, as it brings the whole school back together after a weekend break, to concentrate upon the entire week, on its objectives and the tools that will be used to attain them. Other days of the assemblies are also vital as they help to keep the regulations in the school in an appropriate order. Quiet manifestation should be the key part in a school assembly.

The morning assembly is one of the session in any school where the entire members, be the students or teachers or the staffs come together to pray and make the entire day a good one. Morning assemblies in the schools are kept not only to get the entire crowd of the school together but it is also a feature of discipline. Many morning activities such as morning speeches on a variety of topics, prayer songs, physical education twice a week and many more like these take place in assemblies.

To highlight on the other side of the coin, it is not feasible for the faculty members of the school to keep a strong watch over each and every student of the school. For that reason, in school assemblies, faculty members can opt for a checking session of the students to find out if they maintain the rules and regulations of schools by properly dressing up or not. School assemblies are as essential as other activities that take place in the schools. Students also get many opportunities to express their thoughts through speeches in school assemblies.

Good schools always conduct their morning assemblies in a proper manner. They highlight assemblies as well because students get to learn many things from these assemblies every day.
