A Passion for Kissing Games by Elissa Joyce

Article published on November 30th 2011 | Entertainment

Kissing games have always been a part of child play (and for adults!). Everyone will surely have fond memories of their first kiss. For many it was probably a stolen peck as a result of a kissing game. Who can forget the thrill of running away from your potential clincher in a game of playground kiss chase or sitting in a circle fervently hoping that when the bottle was spun that it would land on your object of child affection â€“ and of course desparately crossing your fingers in the hope it didnâ€™t point to the spotty fat kid.

Just like every childhood pastime that has graduated from the playground and field to the Internet, so has kissing games. Thanks to superlative technological advances in graphics kissing games online have come a long way.

They were simplistic when kissing games made their online debut. A time served formula of cute characters play acting through a series of choices to end up with a kiss have evolved into games with scoring by getting the kiss in a set period of time, credit for the quality of kiss and more challenging scenarios to actually get that rewarding smacker.

Today, kissing games online are a sophisticated bunch. They can connect with social networking sites so girls can compare scores with their online friends and the scenarios have increased in quantity and variety.

Popular with pre-teens, kissing games for girls are a way to escape to a virtual world where romance rules; girls can emulate romantic heroines where princesses trapped in castles await a kiss from a rescuing knight, the 21st century chick can breach the confines of land to pursue her astronaut in the vastness of space and strange planets; those enamored by all things witch and wizard can indulge in magical passions; sporty chicks can snog a surfer dude and the dance fan can get into a clinch in a nightclub scenario.

Naturally, kissing games for girls will tap into the realm of hero and idol worship. You can guarantee that the last teen fad is catered for. Current passions for Justin Bieber and Joe Jonas can come alive in the virtual word of kissing fun. Time honored girl favorites like Barbie also make a appearance.

Of course, the games also take place in normal down to earth situations with scenarios featuring commonplace date themes â€“cinema, restaurant and birthday party.

Online kissing games are purely harmless fun. Theyâ€™re an escape into the world of fantasy and romance. They are all easy to play and generally pretty funny with impossible and improbable scenarios such as trying to get a vampire to kiss your neck instead of sinking his teeth in for a bite for example.

Many voices shout together to complain that gaming has a bad influence on kids but when they are fun, harmless, fantastical and free, there is no issue. Kissing games for girls can also encourage bonds of friendship and competition as they all outdo each to get that all important passionate moment with a virtual Justin Bieber.
