Article Side

Bangladesh News Sites Represent Your Country Virtually by Jack

Article published on March 10th 2012 | Entertainment

Do you go online pretty often to find whatâ€™s happening in Bangladesh? If you do that on a regular basis, you might have come across quite a few dedicated websites that deliver news items on Bangladesh. There are a good many websites that distribute Bangladesh news in Bengali font. You get all the recent news from Dhaka, Khulna, Pabna, Rajshahi and all other corners of the country. You can take a quick glance at the top Bangladesh headlines while you are in you car heading towards your office, having a Facebook chat with your overseas friend or simply tap your Smartphone screen to see BPL score updates. An online Bangla newspaper can keep you informed about whatâ€™s happening in and outside the country and many more, everything just a few clicks through.

These news websites have several sections wherein you can find news items of your choice. You can find news on politics, sports, culture and many more. You can find Bangladeshi film reviews, news from all the Bangladesh metros and rural areas as well. You can find more about the upcoming events in Bangladesh. In short, you will be able to browse through news from the whole of the country.

One advantageous aspect of these Bangladesh news websites is many of these are interactive in nature. You can submit your own story. You can focus on some problems in your area, put your unbiased view on how the new government is working, and write a review of a movie that has not been published yet and endless. Even if you are settled in other corners of the world, you can post news updates on some festivals or major events happening at that part of the planet. Bangladeshi online news websites are getting international colors with changing times. You can easily be a part of the bandwagon.

In fact, a large percentage of the news items found on these Bangla newspaper sites are contributed by people outside the news domain. It is the editorial boardâ€™s responsibility to edit those news articles according to their proclaimed policies and make these pieces more reader-friendly and grammatical error free.

The problem that many of the viewers of these websites face is the incompatibility of fonts. In order to view these websites, you need to download Unicode fonts. You can find plenty of free fonts online. Avro is a trusted and widely accepted font, easily downloadable and you can install it on your computer even if you are not so savvy.

Are you a social media freak? Do you love to post on Facebook anything interesting you come across? Do you tweet in the middle of the night? If yes, then you are going to fall in love with these sites. One great aspect of these Bangladesh news sites is social media connectivity. You can share any news from Bangladesh with the world at a single click. Moreover, if you have Unicode in your system, you can post these updates in your own language. Long live the sweet language.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/entertainment-articles/bangladesh-news-sites-represent-your-country-virtually.htm - Article Side

Jack - About Author:
Get fresh a Bangladesh news update here, everything a few clicks away! Read your favorite a Bangla newspaper from any corner of this world.

Article Keywords:
Bangladesh News,Bangla newspaper

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!