While considering Spain for this EM 2012, they are considered at the upper hand than any other team. Having fifteen points out of five matches in their backpack, they are expected to have the peak priority among the wettanbieter.

Netherlands on the other side got eighteen points in six matches and are expected to reach up to the final. With the coach of Holland Bert Van Marwijk, the team seems to be irresistible in this EM 2012. They have also the same popularity as Spain has.

Germany is still lagging behind comparing the other leading teams but they have managed to catch the Belgium, Turkey and Austria. The young force of Germany is expected to bring some favorable situation for them. Well, Germany has still a chance to be a hot team in this EM 2012.

England faced early difficulties in the qualifiers but equipped with players like Wayne Rooney, Rio Ferdinand and Ashley Cole they still have a chance to win.

France has showed disappointing performance in the last world cup. Though they are well below in the list, they have got some good newcomers. For teams like Italy, though they have some new talented players they are not as popular in this EM 2012 as the Spain or Holland is.

The Bundesliga Prognosen is also very interesting issue this year. Bundsliga Prognosen for the first match i.e. between Bor Mâ€™ Gladbach and FC Bayern Munich is very vital as it is going to decide who will be then underdog. FC Bayern is expected to play the game much seriously to mark a victory.

Another Bundesliga Prognosen for the match between FC Schalke 04 vs. VfB Stuttgart will also attract the attention of the wettanbieter.

The Bundesliga Prognosen for the games among the other teams also shows light to the players as well as the wettanbieter. There is a huge championship is going on. Try your luck play with your full effort to make the tournaments brighter for you by earning some cash from the online games.
