Fun Fundraising Programs: Learn Them from Lemons to Lemonade by Staven Morris

Article published on June 11th 2012 | Ethics

Lemon to lemonade is a new concept and a fun way to a fundraising program, for children's charities whereby children are imbibed with the idea of helping the needy. When life gives you lemons make Lemonade goes the popular saying, in other words it's called the lemonade attitude. The attitude is all about being optimistic and very positive in life. You get lemons so you would have to find sugar and sunshine and make refreshing lemonade. If you lose your job, it could be a lemon life, or a break up in a relationship, all you have to do is take a positive stand and move on, lemons that come your way can just be catalysts for change.

Creating this new idea children are taught to help others whereby the lemonade stands a common sight during your childhood days and you can recall how you longed to have that refreshing lemonade on a hot summer day after school. Grant levy can pride with this novel idea of expertise in lemonade business and the lemonade stand entrepreneur who realised that lemonade business will be profitable for any charity to donate. It teaches children not just to help but also imbibe in them useful marketing skills.

Children first become a part of lemons to lemonade team and they make creative banners, and convert this activity into a learning business. Children have to upload the videos and send pictures along with their unique identification number. The direct suppliers are linked with the store so there is no money transactions involved. Charitable organizations promote the lemonade attitude whereby children mirror themselves as valuable people in society and for those around them. It also teaches them that the journey is not very easy, they need skills to market their product and at the end of the journey it is very relaxing and gratifying to have the refreshing lemonade and make life worthwhile.

Therefore, if you are looking for some really wonderful and free fundraising ideas then Lemons to Lemonade is your perfect destination, an online stop that gives great impetus to kids and instils in them values of charity and compassion.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/ethics-articles/fun-fundraising-programs-learn-them-from-lemons-to-lemonade.htm - Article Side

Staven Morris - About Author:
StavenMorris is United Kingdom Auther. And he is Teaching children about charity can start with a lemonade stand, run for fun and charity. For more details on a Charity Help and a Children Non Profit Organization than please visit our website.

Article Keywords:
charity help,children non profit organization

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!