

Article Side

Colored Glass Panels Decorating Your Kitchen by Julia Roger

Article published on March 30th 2012 | Family

Colored glass panels have continued to exist since ancient times. The Romans community was known for the manufacturing of colored glasses since ancient times. If you look inside the history, it will become very clear that Christian churches of the fourth and 5th century were filled with different type of ornate patterns. The history of the world reveals some interesting facts about the colored glasses is that marked glass windows were used in churches in Britain during the early 7th century. In the 10th and 11th century stained glass, architecture began to prosper as an art.

In the early days of 16th century due to the result of the reformation in England, large number of people started using coloured glass panels windows. Many new churches were built and old churches were restored during the period. During the early days of French revolution, many churches lost their windows due to carelessness and devastation. A large number of such churches were restored during the 19th century. If you will think of the late 19th century, many old buildings in Germany were restored in the medieval period. Due to this reason, the demand for Glasses boosted up across the entire Europe.

In the today's modern era in the 21st century, stained glass remained a viable architectural art form. This type of design is used in restoration as well as contemporary designs. They are mostly used in windows. They have become a trendy medium for street lampshades, fireplace screens and various other objects. A glass panel provides safety, comfort, and relaxation to your house. It offers a smart and attractive fireplace screen and stained glass fireplace screens at a competitive price. In this way, you can augment your earnings background while keeping your family safe. glass panels are an everlasting appearance of beauty and art that can be used to decorate your home.

Article Source:

<http://www.articleside.com/family-articles/colored-glass-panels-decorating-your-kitchen.htm> - Article Side

Julia Roger - About Author:

For more information on a coloured glass panels, check out the info available online; these will help you learn to find the a glass panels!

Article Keywords:

coloured glass panels, glass panels