Camping is one of the best outdoor activities. If you are also going for camping with your friends then first of all you will have to choose perfect camp for you because it is thing that plays an important role in camping. If you donâ€™t have good tent then you wonâ€™t be able to properly enjoy camping trip.

So for choosing the tent that best suits your need, first of all letâ€™s see what type of tent will be best for you. Tents are available in different sizes such as for single person, for group. If you will alone live in the tent then 1-2.5kg will be best for you but if you have more than two persons then opt for 1.75 to 5 kilos. If you frequently go for camping then light weight tent should be chosen. If you going for camping in summer then smaller tent can be used but in winter it should be large enough to accommodate many numbers of campers.

Besides the number of person going to live inside, the place where you will install it also should be considered. If that place ever experiences strong winds then 'A' pole, geodesic design tents will best. For snowy place, steep wall tents are considered good as it sheds snow and in summer season, to have insect netting doors on the inner tent is very useful to protect yourself from midges. Otherwise it can spoil your all enjoyment of camping.

Another important thing while selecting tent is to see that how easy it is to pitch it. Because If you will have to face difficulty in pitching it then, you wonâ€™t get time to enjoy. Before pitching it finally at camp you should practice pitching tent in your garden so you can easily pitch it afterwards. Now choose your favorite color and shape since you will spend your mostly time inside it so it should be according to your choice.
