Handmade soap is a new niche market in the soaps industry. Over the past few years the soap has become less popular and has been replaced with shower gels and hand based liquid soaps. But since the last year a new trend has started and there has been an introduction of handmade soaps. The Lip Balm market has also been expanded and a whole new range of balms have been introduced using exotic fruits and more softer ingredients which are more skin friendly and have less chemicals in them. All of our balms are handmade and are not sold as sticks but sold in a tub. Our range of Rose handmade soap has been specially made for the elderly market and has a really awesome scent which is really appreciated by the target market. These soaps have been handmade right from the start to the end. Even once the soap is made it is hand cut, even at this point no machinery is used in this process.

Handmade soap has seen a great increase in sales over past few years. As it is still a fairly new product for many they are more curious to find out how it works. So many people purchase this soap to see how it compares to ordinary soap. These soaps are really appealing for people with sensitive skin as these soaps are made using organic ingredients that are very neutral and have no or very few chemicals in them. The main speciality of these soaps is that they leave your skin feeling soft and moisturised even after repeat use during the day. These soaps are now made in various different scents. One of the best selling is Rose handmade soap which outsells all handmade soaps. Rose is also mixed with other flavours and scents to give even better aromas of soaps. We also sell a wide range of Lip Balms which are also handmade and are sold in small containers and beautifully packed and make a great gift idea.

Handmade soap has also been made a great gift idea for many and many people buy a whole range of different flavoured soaps or sell it as a part of a gifts hamper. The Rose handmade soap is a commonly added item as a part of a gift hamper and has been a popular item. The rose soap has also been combined with other flavours such as honey suckle and lily of the valley. These combinations of flavours give a great scented soap. We have also developed similar flavoured Lip Balm which also has the same desired effect on users.
