Mineral Makeup- Beauty through nature by Blossom Dana

Article published on November 25th 2011 | Fashion

Mineral makeup is most commonly referred as foundation in loose powder format. In mineral make-up there will be mineral, part mineral or less than 1% mineral as part of the finished formula. By going through the ingredient list, and realizing the common minerals, one can find out quantity of minerals present in that product. Sometimes companies might combine minerals with organic ingredients in their finished product.

Perfect way for skin care.

Mineral makeup is the perfect way to pamper your skin with a cream foundation with a unique, natural moisture-rich complex. The skin balancing and skin enhancing formula in it improves the skinâ€™s texture and gives you the natural relaxation and protection for your skin.

Natural skincare cleanses the skin, removes resistant makeup and pore-clogging residue. This contains a blend of freshest Aloe Vera, soothing Chamomile and fresh Lemon, Avocado, Apricot kernel and Rice Bran oils as well as Ivy, Papaya, Rosemary and Golden Seal extracts and leaves the skin velvety soft and supple. It enhances skin renewal and metabolism. It is suitable for all types of skin.

Natural skin care is the care of the skin using naturally-derived ingredients such as herbs, roots, essential oils and flowers combined with naturally occurring carrier agents, preservatives, surfactants, humectants and emulsifiers. Many people use natural skin care products which are made at home from naturally occurring ingredients. Scientific studies have proven that ingredients such as Chamomile have demonstrated healing and anti-inflammatory properties when applied.

Ayurveda â€“ Medicines from nature.

Ayurveda is one of the natural ways of curing. It has a wide variety of natural medicines derived from herbs, roots etc for natural skincare. It is a very popular medicinal branch of medical science for the treatment using natural and traditional medicines which is prepared traditionally. It is said that Ayurvedic medicine can cure the root cause of the problem which results in permanent cure.

In Ayurvedic skin care there are seven different types of problems that govern skin and hair types. They are Vata, Pitta, Kapha, Vata-Pitta, Vata-Kapha, Pitta-Kapha, or Vata-Pitta-Kapha. Most people fall into a combination of two of the three principles.

Ayurveda advises to modify one's diet, exercise, lifestyle and supplements according to one's constitution of these three humors. Most of the Ayurvedic skin care products contain the following herbs - Aloe Vera, Almond, Avocado, Carrot, Castor, Clay, Cocoa, Coconut oil, Cornmeal, Cucumber, Cutch tree, Emu oil, Ginkgo Biloba, Ginseng, Grape seed oil, Ground almond and Walnut shell, Horse Chestnut, Witch hazel and honey.

Honey the sweetest way of skincare.

Honey is also considered as a natural skin care medicine. Honey's natural antioxidant and anti-microbial properties and ability to absorb and retain moisture have been recognized and used extensively in skin care treatments. They help to protect skin from the damage of the sun rays and rejuvenate depleted skin.
