Poor performance in credit report does not help the loan seekers when they look for cash, however small the cash may be. The lenders avoid taking risks and it is natural for them to rely on a person whose credit history has been stained with arrears, defaults, late payment, less payment and with similar things. On the other hand, people who have tarnished their credit status want to find perfect solution for cash shortage. A medical bill or a grocery bill is to be cleared. A bill for electricity or telephone services cannot be left pending. It is impossible to ignore the school tuition fees for the children. The list does not appear to have an end. The problem is graver for the salaried people who are to wait for the next payday to get a new paycheck. It should be admitted that the salaried people have been benefitted to a great extent with introduction of cash loans no credit check.

Men and women with unhealthy credit record should not lose heart, because credit report is not verified by the lenders when they review the loan application for cash loans no credit check. Hence, the borrowers should learn if they are eligible for finance of this kind. It has been observed that most of the loan applications submitted for cash loans no credit check get approved.

Citizens of Canada are eligible for cash loans no credit check provided that they are legally adult and that they own a valid checking account. It is not important if they are self-employed or employed. They must have, through employment of any form, regular monthly income, about $1000, so that they can clear the loan amount in time.

Cash loans no credit check are advanced against the paycheck of the borrower, that is, against his paycheck of the next month. The paycheck of the loan seekers is treated like collateral, but it is never pronounced. The payment is made in unsecured form and collateral is not demanded. The loan seeker is to pay the interest for the cash at higher rates, as the fund is advanced without being linked with collateral. The borrower gets a small amount, between 100 and 1000, but he is instructed to repay the secured amount within two to four weeks.

The lenders are fast-mover. They are prepared to dispatch the payable cash to the bank account of the loan seeker within 24 hours after it is decided that payment against a particular loan application will be made. The finance providers prefer the loan application for cash loans no credit check being submitted through online mode.
