Setup your own backend debt settlement office by John Taylor

Article published on December 26th 2011 | Finance

Itâ€™s time one realized the importance of expanding oneâ€™s debt settlement business by using time in more efficient manner. The best way to do this is to opt for a Debt settlement back end. There are some excellent backend debt settlement companies that are run very professionally. These companies have experienced backend staff to take on all your commitments once you sign up for one of the companyâ€™s attorney supported affiliate programs. The first thing that happens is that you are eligible to the companyâ€™s power of the call shield. This facility has been invented by one of the attorneys.

As long as you are a part of the affiliate program, the call shield will automatically redirect all collection calls to your backend office. This is a great idea and one that will save you a lot of time. You will also be saved from the irritability thatâ€™s bound to result due to these calls. You can, therefore, spend more time on sales and marketing while your backend office looks after all your debt settlement clientsâ€™ accounts. The debt settlement companies act on behalf of your clients and help them clear their debts and tax liability.

The debt management company will provide your clients with educational material. This resource material will guide your clients that want to eliminate the debt burden in phases. This is a great option for all your clients that also want debt settlement carried out in a non-aggressive manner. All the credit card bills are consolidated in one low monthly payment. Simultaneously, the interest rate is lowered and collection activity stopped. Both the late fee charges and over the limit fees are stopped. These companies are administered by certified credit counselors. The program is meant to help your clients take charge of their finances once again by the use of a budgeting process and a restructuring of all outstanding unsecured debts.

The debt management service provided will include the retention of credit rating and a rebuilding of credit after updating of accounts. Cash will be freed up while monthly payments will be reduced by half. Your clients will be able to pay off debts quickly as well.
