Finding a Rhinoplasty Expert in Manhattan by Theodore Diktaban

Article published on February 16th 2012 | Fitness

Ah, the rhinoplasty (aka "nose job") - one of cosmetic surgery's mainly talked regarding procedures.

Several people are dissatisfied with the manner their nose appears. And it's for good reason, really - the nose has a vast influence over how your entire face looks. If you feel your nose is off in any manner (too long, too broad, upturned, etc), it could dramatically affect the manner you feel about your entire body.

A nose job, while done properly, is completely life altering. People can go about their entire lives being frustrated with their noses. So, their confidence plummets. But once they come to visit a rhinoplasty expert in Manhattan, their life does a complete 180. Rather than being dissatisfied with the nose, they like the manner it appears. It causes them to have significantly better confidence for the rest of their lives.

Sounds nice, right? There's just a tiny drawback: although nose jobs are popular during the world, there are very few cosmetic surgeons who act upon them. And there are much fewer who perform them well.

The reason? Well, as said above, people are very picky about their noses. For that reason, many cosmetic surgeons don't want to be involved with the surgery - they feel it's too much of a risk.

Enter Dr. Diktaban

If you're trying for plastic surgery in Long Island-especially rhinoplasty-look no further than Dr. Diktaban's office.

One of only 180 physicians within the country to be certified by the American Board of Plastic Surgery and also the American Board of Otolaryngology (ears, nose and throat surgery), Dr. Diktaban has been a practicing cosmetic surgeon since 1978.

This level of expertise permits him to accomplish incredible work on even the most complex procedures. Take the nose job, for example. Where many surgeons wouldn't touch this procedure with a 10 ft. pole due to inexperience, Dr. Diktaban has been hailed as New York's own "Nose Job Expert."

That is due to the frequency he performs the surgery, as well as the sheer number of satisfied patients.

Looking for a Rhinoplasty Expert in Manhattan? Don't wait!

If you're searching to have some plastic surgery in Manhattan done, now is, by far, the perfect possible time to have it. This is because of the winter season. With snow and freezing cold temperatures, many of New Yorkers could be spending most of their time in doors.

What does it mean for you? If you've recently had plastic surgery in Long Island done, you'll need some time to recover from it. And what good moment to recover than in the winter? A time once you hardly ever need to go out, and even when you do, there are pretty few people out and about as well?

If you're unhappy with your nose, realize that, though the surgery may be difficult, under the steady arm of Dr. Diktaban, you'll be in a position to have the face you've constantly dreamt of.

Don't go through life wishing you could have been born with a totally different nose. There are factors you can do to alter this, and a rhinoplasty is definitely one of the best. Transform your face, transform your self-confidence, and transform your life.

And, for your own sake, when you do decide to have a nose job, go with a rhinoplasty expert in Manhattan. Or, the Nose Job Expert - Dr. Diktaban.
