Article published on March 27th 2012 | Fitness

Restylane injections are quickly capturing the market and have become the ultimate choice for wrinkles and lips. This injection differs from other injectable fillers in the market due to its exclusive composition. Restylane was originally produced in Sweden and is well known over the entire Europe for their success in facial transformation. The components used in the manufacturing of such injections are fully biodegradable and is one of the naturally occurring substance which is present in all the living organisms.

This is a clear substance which is injected directly beneath the skins surface and is normally used in patients between the age group of 35 and 60 years. They are well known for the treatment of wrinkles on the faces of human body. They are sometimes also used for lip augmentation and reducing lining around the mouth. Restylane injections are given to the patients with the local anesthesia due to the reason that they experience some pain and discomfort from the needle during each injection. This procedure takes around 30 minutes and the patientâ€™s returns home shortly as soon as the entire procedure is finished. Swelling may exist for the next couple of days after the injection and patients are advised not to expose more in the sunlight.

Such Restylane injections are a secure and efficient which will treat moderate wrinkles while some side effects may occur which includes redness, tenderness and mild pain as well. Some of the side effects of this injection include headache, nausea and flu-like systems and then it requires a medical attention. Overall thing is that you need not to be very panic and harassed if the patient faces such type of any symptoms. The Restylane Injections are provided to the patients depending on the extent of the treatment and the procedure takes around 5-15 minutes on a whole. The injection is provided to the patients with the help of cosmetic surgeons and is injected beneath the skin under the dermis and sub cutis layers of your skin. The desired result will start appearing within one week of the injection only.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/fitness-articles/restylane-injections-providing-smooth-and-sculpted-lips.htm - Article Side

Julia Roger - About Author:
For more information on a Restylane injections, check out the info available online; these will help you learn to find the a Restylane injections!

Article Keywords:
Restylane injections

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!