In the chilly wintry weather there is nothing like having a hot drink served in your much loved coffee bar. Unwind where you feel warm and relaxed with the world rushing by and settle back with an excellent book or paper in a cafe or you can even sit out on the outdoor pavers. Whether you opt for tea, coffee, a hot chocolate or one of the more odd flavors of hot beverages, nothing warms you better than a fine hot drink.

Tea

Just like coffee, there are lots of diversities of tea. For sure, I'm talking in relation to tea that comes from a plant, not some other drink identified as tea. The Chinese fond out the benefits of consuming it as far back as five thousand years and made use of it to relieve digestion; assist with taking medicine and for general wellbeing benefits. It wasn't until the Portuguese launched the trade route with the Far East that the tea was brought into Europe. Now tea has turn out to be a traditional drink all over the world and it comes in lots of diverse flavors. A number of cafes provide the consumers a selection of teas. Herbal healthy tea is well-liked with Green Tea having remarkable health benefits, too.

Coffee

The origin of coffee dates back to the thirteenth century where it is assumed that the Ethiopians first found the bean, which could be grounded to offer a revitalizing drink. It hit Europe in the 1500s and the earliest cafe opened in Venice was in 1645. Nowadays, it is provided all over the world and is a hugely well-liked drink. It is also served in lots of diverse ways together with cappuccino, espresso Italiano, cafe latte, Caffe Americano, liqueur coffee, iced coffee, Iced Cappuccino, flavored coffee and lots more. Cafes often make certain kinds of coffee as their special brand drinks. In a number of places, iced coffee is favored over iced tea.

One of Indiaâ€™s foremost approved chains of coffee bars; the Barista Lavazza Coffee Company operates more than 200 bars in India and has started aggressively marketing its goods outside Indian boundaries into neighboring nations. Supposed to be the Starbucks of the East, Barista offers many similar menu items like espressos, lattes, cappuccino coffee and various pastries plus basic hot beverages and cold beverages.
