Pizza Chef Recipe- Learn to Make Delicious Pizzas at Home by Julia Roger

Article published on May 28th 2012 | Food

It is not convenient to run to a pizza shop every time you want to have one. Now you can prepare pizza at home and enjoy it whenever you like. You can be a pizza chef just by following certain instructions and buying some easily available ingredients.

The first part of preparing pizza is the making of the dough. All you need them is to mix them in right amount and thoroughly. The basic ingredients needed for making dough are flour, yeast, salt, water, and oil. You must add each of these in order to get the perfect dough. The oil prevents the dough to get stick to the bowl so that you can easily take it out. Nowadays catering pizza chef uses countertop mixers and dough hooks for mixing and kneading. You can use these at home for professional taste. You can proof it at room temperature. However, professional pizza chef proofs it in the refrigerator, which prevents the dough from getting dry. If you want to form the dough like a professional pizza chef then you can try any of the three methods- by hand, by rolling pin and by machine.

Which method to choose depends on you and the time available? Using rolling pin or machine will be faster, but doing it by hand can be fun once you expertise in it. You can prepare the sauce if you need. While baking, do not put a thick layer of sauce on the dough. A little bit of crust will add to its taste. If you add any toppings, then precook them. Make sure that every layer is properly cooked. Put a meager amount of olive oil on the top, as that will prevent the pizza from being dried or burnt while baking. So now, you can make pizzas at home like a professional pizza chef and earn compliment. Invite your friends or enjoy delicious pizzas with your family anytime.
