Roasted Turducken- a Mouth-Watering Dish by James Blee

Article published on December 26th 2011 | Food

The name turducken is quite confusing. Actually, it is a delicious dish prepared by roasting three different types of bird. Thus, it has got its other name as three bird roast. Thus, dish is a special Cajun Dish and is most popular in the Louisiana area. The roasting of three different birds may seem to be a difficult dish to prepare. But in reality, the dish is quite easy to cook. Obviously, the whole job eats up a lot of time with the filling the birds and the works related with it.

The turducken actually consists of a large-sized turkey which is stuffed with proper spices and roasted just enough to give it a great taste. It is worth mentioning that inside the turkey lays a medium-sized duck. Lastly, within the duck lies a small chicken. The spices, herbs and the other things that provide the dish an irresistible taste are all stuffed inside the chicken. All the taste depends on the proper stuffing of the spices and herbs and thus it should be done with utmost care. This juicy dish is liked by all and it can be a great way to treat our guests with this dish. But in this hectic world, if people are not able to spend too much time in preparing turducken or are not sure enough to prepare this at home, they need not worry at all. They are readily available in various Cajun grocery stores in and around Louisiana.. If there is no such shop near your house, then online shops will take care to quench your lust for this mouth-watering dish. Just a simple call will land a turducken at your doorstep. For international deliveries, a food addict needs to wait around a fortnight after placing the order.
