Article published on February 10th 2012 | Food

With Valentineâ€™s Day just around the corner, it is time to start thinking about how to use this special day to your advantage. During the Christmas holiday season many companies are bombarded with gifts from a large percentage of their corporate connections. To stand out from the crowd, more and more people are choosing other holidays to keep their presence known. Valentineâ€™s Day is not only a day for lovers, but a day to show others that they are important to you - be it friends, family, co-workers, or business associates. Sending a gift on Valentineâ€™s Day has a special connotation to it. You will surely be better remembered for caring about your business associates.

When choosing a corporate gift for Valentineâ€™s Day the sky is the limit. The most popular gifts consist of chocolates, candies and other sweets. The newest products to become popular are Cake Bites. They are delicious and convenient, being easier to eat and serve in the workplace.

To best be remembered, choose an item that is delicious and fun! Most companies have an option of cookies or other sweets beautifully displayed in an expensive container. But be wary of the quality. Many companies emphasize the packaging of their products, and not the taste. This tends to be especially true with cookies. Be sure to choose goodies that are known to taste delicious, not just look good â€“ the taste will be remembered long after the decoration.

One company - Ingallina's Box Lunch - has a varied assortment of delicious freshly baked cookies, brownies, and other creative sweets available during this short time. Combine that fresh quality with beautiful boxes and adorable containers at just about any price level and one canâ€™t go wrong! They also carry a variety of "Happy Valentineâ€™s Day" balloons, appropriate for corporate giving.

If you have a business associate near Seattle, Washington; Portland, Oregon; or Los Angeles, California be sure to ask if you are eligible for free delivery, as their delivery area is quite substantial. Shipping prices throughout the rest of the US are also quite reasonable. With prices starting less than most places charge for just for delivery, you get the most value for your money.

Valentineâ€™s Day is no longer just for lovers â€“ it is a chance to tell those you live, play, and work with that they are valuable to you. In our current economic state, one must take every opportunity to secure the relationships that keep the company profitable. Valentinesâ€™ goodies and sweets are the perfect opportunity to do just that.
